This weekend we celebrate World Mission Sunday, which is an annual global celebration with the Catholic Church, observed on the second to last Sunday of October. This special day is dedicated to the support of Missionary work of the Church through prayer and sacrifices. On this day we join with Pope Leo XIV to support the missions in prayer, participation in the Eucharist and donating to this special collection. Why does World Mission Sunday Matter and what does the collection support? World Mission Sunday is a visible sign of Catholic communion and solidarity. It is our opportunity to respond to Christ's Great Commission: "Go therefore, and make disciples of all nations" (Matthew 28:19).

This year's theme is "Missionaries of Hope Among the Peoples" was chosen by the late Pope Francis. He wanted to inspire us to reflect on the meaning of hope in Christian life. As St. Paul reminds us, "Hope does not disappoint, because the love of God has been poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit who has been given to us" (Romans 5:50). Our Mission is to replicate this divine hospitality, creating joy, compassion and hope to everyone we encounter especially in areas of the world where the Gospel has not been received. This invitation is more than just a call; it is a spiritual journey to embrace and share God's love.

Here are examples of how we at St. Paul's can live out our call to be "Missionaries of Hope Among the Peoples" on this World Mission Sunday:

Pray for Missions

Pray for the success of the Church's missionary efforts, missionary priests, religious brothers and sisters, and lay people. And also pray for the people served by them in Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Pacific Island, and some regions of Europe.

Donations: Your financial support helps fund missionary activities around the world, such as:

- * The formation of seminarians and future religious sisters and brothers
- * The education of children in Catholic schools
- * Healthcare and pastoral care in remote and underserved regions
- * The training of catechists and lay leaders
- * The construction of churches, chapels, schools and mission centers

As you can see from the examples above, the second collection this weekend for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, directly aids the Pope's mission, allowing missionaries to minister and uplift communities in dire need. Let us be inspirations of Hope with our prayers and generosity. Fr. Paul and I thank you deeply for your heartfelt contributions and support in our passion with the missions!

Schroeder, Gerald L.

The Science of God

Doctor Schroeder, a physicist, believes the Bible and science can be seen as different perspectives of a single whole. In addition to physics, he has pursued a study of Biblical interpretation with a focus on the Book of Genesis in the original Hebrew. In this book, he discusses such topics as free will, the development of the universe, the origin of life, and the origin of man, arguing that the latest science and a close reading of the Bible are not just compatible but interdependent. In science, we search for the "how" of the universe. We study the world and hope to learn the laws by which it functions. We also have questions about the "why" of the universe. Is there meaning to our lives that transcends the splendor that we see all about us? Using scientific knowledge and ancient Biblical interpretation, Doctor Schroeder discusses the duality, not the dichotomy, of science and the Bible. (Call No. 261.5-Sch)
